Health Center To Stop Giving Shots for Polio

The Los Angeles County Health Department will discontinue all polio inoculations after next Friday, Dr. B. A. Kogan, Torrance health officer, was informed Friday.

After July 26, shots will be given only to persons registered in child health and maternal conferences at the center, located at 2300 W. Carson St., he said. The supply of vaccine at Los Angeles County Centers is exhausted, and people who want shots can get it from their family doctors.

More than 110,000 shots have been administered through the Torrance Health Center since the program started two years ago. An additional 30,000 shots have been given by private doctors who obtained the vaccine through the health center.

Medical authorities say that polio, particularly of the paralytic variety, has shown a marked decrease since the development of the Salk vaccine.

New Machine Puts on New Heels in Only 3 Minutes

Recent installation of an automatic heeling machine called the "Comet-10 Auto-Soler" and the much heralded "core heels" now enable Kenny's Shoe Repair, 1278 Sartori Ave., to perform a new service for their customers.

Customers who visit this shop can now get their shoes re-heeled in three minutes and be on their way.

Kenneth R. Ruffell, manager, says that this new equipment gets heel jobs out so fast that other work in the shop is speeded up, too.

In attaching core heels, the new Comet-10 Model uses soft steel wire from a reel for making its own fasteners which are accurately and automatically cut to pre-selected length and imbedded deeply into the heel at a rapid speed, faster than the eye can follow.

Fasteners are driven into the heel in such a manner that the pointed end loops, so as to prevent points from working upward into the shoe, sometimes a major reason for discomfort.

Among the advantages gained by use of these heels are a softer rubber for greater comfort, no holes to pick up dirt or mud, a tighter fit to the shoe, no danger of nail heads inside the heel scratching floors when worn a little too long, and for appearance sake, core heels look just like heels found on new shoes.

He said that the 1957 competition is open to all young women between the ages of 16 and 25 who are residents of San Pedro, or to those in other communities provided they are employed in the Los Angeles Harbor fishing industry or are members of the immediate family of someone in the industry. Contestants must not now be or ever have been married.

The 1957 Skipperette competition is under the direction of a committee from the fishermen's Cooperative Association Auxiliary, Mrs. Matt Bodul, president.
